

Shadow Theory

I just can't find the conviction to press any harder
Now that I have my foot on your throat

There's a gap where your eyes close
I've spent years trying to get close

It's the spirit of man
The way we feel towards things
It's difficult to measure
It's a dangerous place

There's a gap when your eyes close
I've spent years trying to get close

*Oi! Are you climbing mountains?
Oh yeah!?! OK...*

There's a gap when your eyes close

I listen to mutter does your nurse not know?
I listen to you stutter: sense
Sugar and spice and mace
I'm amazed you're still alive

There's a gap when your eyes close
I've spent years just trying to get close

*Listen to yourself...
Do you get breakfast in bed?
Do you feel all your troubles?
What's the best day to go to the dentist's?
There are believers in astrology!
Astrologists say that there are days when it's better to go to the dentist than others....
Listen to yourself!*

(love me, love me, love me – help me!!!)

There's a gap when your eyes close
I've spent years trying to get close

There's a gap when your eyes close
I've spent years just trying to get close

I can't feel your touch when you hold me
I can't feel your touch

Push it, Push it harder
Take the medicine, Take it all
